

To whom it may concern,

I have had High Impact Furniture Sales work with my stores on many occasions. They have done an outstanding job every time. Mike Jensen has treated my money like it was his money. Every expense and advertising cost was carefully reviewed and approved. He called and personally met with the TV stations to negotiate the best rates and schedules. He even oversaw the production of all the commercials to get the most impact.

Our sales people made great money because the floor was not flooded with their sales people. As a result, when we needed another event everyone in our company was onboard. Their sales training was incredible. Our sales people's skills greatly improved and our margins held strong.

High Impact Furniture Sales is the only sales promotion company I trust.

Sincerely,

Ed O'Brian
